Cortland, NY, February, 6, 2007 – WetStone Technologies, Inc., the leader in computer forensics software, has won a 2007 Reader Trust Award in the 10th annual SC Magazine Award program for outstanding achievement in Information-Technology (IT) security. Its Gargoyle Investigator™ Enterprise Edition was named the Best Computer Forensics Solution at a gala ceremony held in San Francisco in conjunction with the recent RSA Conference, the world's leading information-security event.

Gargoyle Investigator™ Enterprise Edition was among nearly 400 entries submitted in 20 technology categories. Winners in the SC Magazine Awards Reader Trust program are based on voting by more than 9,000 of the publication's readers.

"As we witness more and more incidents of data theft and exposure, it becomes obvious that our IT security practitioners and companies that support them are critical in today's business world," says SC Magazine Editor-in-Chief Illena Armstrong.

Kelly Ivey, Director of Marketing for WetStone Technologies said, "This is such a tremendous accomplishment as we were faced with strong competition for this award. Gargoyle Investigator™ has been a focus for WetStone as the threat for increased proliferation of malware or crimeware is vastly growing and is of a major concern for everyone in the industry. We are very honored to accept this award and want to thank everyone who voted for us."
